

SITUATION 1:

Sophia is 10 years old. Mom needed to go out on a short errand and asked Sophia to clean her room, then practice the piano. Sophia quickly tidied her room, then decided to turn on the TV. An interesting program came on. What should Sophia do? What would Jesus do? What should we do when we are tempted to disobey? Who can help us make the right choice?

SITUATION 2:

Andrei is walking to school; he wants to arrive early so he has time to play before school starts. As he is walking, he notices a neighbor's kitten meowing. He knows it's lost. He knows if he stops to pick it up and take it back home, he won't have time to play before school. What should Andrei do? What would Jesus have done when He was a boy?

SITUATION 3:

Mira's mom asks her to do some jobs. She needs to clean the windows, and then she can play at the park. Mira doesn't like cleaning windows, and really wants to go to the park to play, so she gives the windows a quick cleaning, missing lots of spots, then tells her mom she is finished. Has Mira done her best? How did Jesus help when He was a boy? Who is always with us and can help us always do our best?
